Melaka (Port Dickson)

Port Dickson began history as a small Malay village inhabited by fishermen and traders. It used to be first known as 'Arang', which means coal, a reference to a carbon mine in the area. Around the 1820s, tin ore was discovered in Lukut town about 7km north, leading to an influx of Chinese migrants into the area. In the 1880s during the colonial era, a British official named Sir Frederic Dickson turned Arang into a port for transporting the rich tin ore deposits from Sungai Ujong to Klang, thus the name Port Dickson.

The Stadthuys

St Paul's Church

Porta de Santiago

Jonker Walk

- The Stadthuys (Outside Visit): Built between 1641 and 1660 on the ruins of a fort which belongs to the Portuguese. This massive red building displays all the common features of the Dutch colonial architecture which includes substantial solid doors and louvered windows.
- St Paul's Church: The Portuguese built this church in 1521 and called it "Our Lady of the Hill." It acquired its present name from the Dutch, who built a new Lutheran church down the hill, while St. Paul's became a funereal ground and a white-washed navigational marker for passing ships.
- Porta de Santiago: As one of the four main gates of the A Famosa fortress, it is the best evidence of Portuguese occupation hundreds of years ago. This historic structure was built by the Portuguese in 1511 under the command of Alfonso de Albuquerque.
- Dataran Pahlawan Melaka Megamall: The Mall houses local, international fashion brands, F&B favourites and entertainment centres. Enjoy free time shopping here!
- The Shore Sky Tower (Level 43): Walk around the roof and discover a world above. The perimeter fencing the deck is constructed from glass, for you to see through it. With the telescope provided, you can easily spot the view of the Melaka City. More thrills and excitement awaits you, as you take in the view under your foot with glass flooring at Sky Deck. Be surrounded by skyscrapers and enjoy a truly unique experience with amazing 360° panoramas view of the city and beyond.
- Jonker Walk: Both sides of the road are flanked with heritage houses dating back up to the 17th century. Many shops are selling antiques, textiles, handicrafts and souvenirs. The diversity of Jonker Walk's traditional and urban attractions is a testament of Malaysia's colorful history and rich multicultural society.

Important Notes:

- Around 500 steps to climb up to the Porta de Santiago. Not recommended for guests in wheelchair or with limited mobility. Guests can alternatively enjoy taking photos at nearby location.
- Ride from Port to The Stadthuys takes about 1 hour and 45 minutes one way.
- Guests will take the lift to level 42 and need to walk up stairs to the observation deck on level 43. This attraction is not recommended for those guests who are with limited mobility or in wheelchairs.
